CDTi was presented with the award for its contributions toward building a clean energy economy with its advances in reducing vehicle emissions through its innovative systems and products.

"Each month I recognize a business, person or organization in my district dedicated to preserving our environment by living and working responsibly," said Senator Pavley. "This month I am proud to present the September Sustainability Award to CDTi, who has been a major leader in the worldwide deployment of technologies which reduce overall emissions from diesel, gasoline, natural gas and biofuel applications. Additionally, CDTi is recognized for their innovations in emissions control technology. I am honored to present this award to CDTi, a global, innovative Ventura County company," added Senator Pavley.
